° The U.S. Embassy in Moscow asked for telegraphic receipt of monthly FBIS analysis reports on Soviet media treatment of President Reagan. The Embassy wishes to use the reports in responding to Soviet "complaints about allegedly intemperate language by Administration officials with respect to the USSR" as well as in conversations with Western newsmen and diplomats. FBIS began producing these reports in April for Vice President Bush at the request of the NIO/USSR-EE.

° For USIA, FBIS researched Soviet, East European, and other communist bloc media reactions to USIA's Euronet and Worldnet projects--interviews with top U.S. officials beamed by satellite to West Europe and other areas. USIA requested the information as an indication of the effectiveness of the projects, in connection with hearings on its budget.
